Political Speculations.

Several of the newspapers in the State are indulging in conjectures as to the prospects of congressional candidates in the Albany Convention. Various preferences are suggested, and local and personal claims are set up with warm energy. This is all very well, and doubtless tends to the introduction of sundry respectable gentlemen to public notice, who might but for such suggestions, "waste their sweetness on the desert air." This thing is certain, however—only one of the crowded host can be nominated, and the others must patiently wait till their time comes, or die, without going to Congress. While we have a decided preference, we do not deem it expedient to express it, just at present, or to publish any of the numerous letters, which we have recently received from enthusiastic and sanguine correspondents, in regard to the merits and virtues of their various favorites. We hope and believe that the Convention will discreetly and intelligently consider the wants of the people of the State, rather than the demands of any section, or of the clamorous friends of any individual. That is the business of its members. The Union organization desires to support with zeal and unanimity any competent man, fairly nominated who is a citizen of Oregon, and whose capacity, integrity and patriotism are undoubted. It does not want any other to be presented for its votes. It does not desire to be urged to vote any tool of a faction, or any instrument or agent of individuals, who have private ends to gain. Any man who wants to go to Congress for the purpose of feathering his own nest, or to contrive plans to fill Federal offices with the persons who favor his nomination and his election, is not the proper representative of the people in this momentous crisis. There has been enough of bargains to secure positions, and the people will regard with jealous suspicions, all movements which result in the selection of time-serving demagogues, who buy nominations with promises, which if kept, are mischievous, and if not kept, cause disaffection and disappointment. We want a faithful and competent man, who has ability to represent us,—who will not make us ashamed that we have a poor and worthless stick at Washington,—who will not spend his time and use his influence in securing positions for stupid blunderheads, because they belong to his family or secured his nomination. Let the Convention name a good man, and his election is certain. If it proposes to make the support—as we cannot imagine that it will—any trifling, good for nothing pet, for the sake of mere policy or to meet the demand of local interests, it will impose a burden, hard to be borne, and very likely to be rejected. It is no time to count on trades, and to expect the people to ratify them. Good sense and patriotism are not dead; those who think they are will make a large and very wholesome mistake.

TENDING TO MONARCHY.—Democrats who pretend to think that Jeff. Davis and his bogus Government are better than the Union, and at the same time profess to be almost the exclusive friends of popular rights, carried to the largest limits, may have a good chance to consider their consistency, and to see how their rebel associates are drifting away from the old moorings, by reading the following from a recent number of the Southern Literary Messenger. It shows that Southern sentiment has no sympathy with the idea of the right of the people to rule themselves, but rather prefers that power should belong only to the privileged classes:

We have no special objection to royalty when restrained by constitutional barriers. The glorious career of England—illustrating for centuries the beauty and truth of free government—demonstrates that royalty and liberty are not incompatible. Let us seek at once to eradicate every vestige of radical democracy, every feature tending to make ours a popular government, making it subject only to the intelligent and virtuous, and those who are interested in its successful administration.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS.—In reply to a correspondent, who names two very excellent gentlemen as candidates for Presidential electors, we wish to be excused for saying that we hope the Albany Convention will not designate any persons for that office. No one is yet nominated as President or Vice President. Many contingencies may occur to prevent the result which now seems to be desirable. Mr. Lincoln is beyond a question the choice of a large majority of our citizens: he may not be in two or three months hence, and whether he is or not, it is just as well not to be premature in the selection of electoral candidates.

REACTION.—It is reported that a great reaction is taking place in Oregon regarding the Boise mines, and that the 800 passengers who landed at Portland from the Panama, found the town filled to overflowing with disappointed wealth hunters, who had been to Boise and found the mines worthless, because of scarcity of water. If the report be true, Cariboo, the richest known gold field in the world, will rejoice to a large accession to her population during the coming season.

The above from a Victoria paper illustrates the good-natured disposition of our John Bully neighbors. If it suits the roast beefs to tell that sort of lies, we have no complaint to make; they can keep on, but they cannot fill Cariboo so full of gold and silver as Boise has proved to be.

ANOTHER PIECE OF EVIDENCE.—The following extract from a letter of the Hon. Mr. Clingman, of North Carolina, to one of his friends in the good city of Philadelphia, is cut from a copy of the Philadelphia Morning Times of the date of November 4th, 1856. The letter is worthy of republication and perusal, at this date, that we may know truly the spirit which animated the chivalry seven years ago, and more than four years before the outbreak of war which has come upon us from the South.

We have room only for the closing paragraphs of the letter, which are full of the treasonable spirit of secession, as manifested by leaders of the rebellion long ago contemplated, and by their Democratic allies at the North:

Equally preposterous is the idea referred to in the North, that we are threatening to revolt against the government. It was decided by the Parliament that James Second, by violating the Constitution, had abdicated the government, and left the throne vacant. So those States, that refuse to obey the Constitution are to be held as having gone out of the Union. Let Massachusetts, New York and others stay out of it, and at the same time lose the use of southern funds for their ships and southern purchasers for their manufactures and imports. When their intercourse with us is placed on the footing common between foreign and hostile governments, if they do not find sufficient consolation in the idea that "they are freed in their consciences from all responsibility for the sin and turpitude of southern slavery, then let them, by force of arms, get back into the Union if they can.

With respect to those persons who are for resistance, but who say, that we ought to wait for an overt act, and in the meantime allow our enemies to take possession of the government, and obtain the control of the army, navy and treasury, they manifest the height of fatuity.

I am confident that at the proper time a line of policy and action can be indicated, which, without any real sacrifice, will protect the South and its institutions, both social and political. At present it is only necessary for every true man to hold himself ready to act, should the emergency occur. Our enemies are only entitled to know that we will submit to their domination when they have conquered us in battle and slain our fighting men.

T. L. CLINGMAN.

An Officer's Opinion and What Became of It.

"The Sanitary Commission is a Humbug:—it has done no good and never will."

This was the remark of an officer lately who had been in this hospital for some time sick;—and perhaps I can serve the cause of humanity and the country in no better way than by repeating the conversation which then took place, and give the results.

"You think so do you? What was the matter with you when you came here?" "Diarrhea and Scurvy." "What was the first thing done for you when you came here?" "I had a warm bath and clean clothes—but what has that to do with the Sanitary Commission?" "Never mind, we will see—Are you better than when you came in?" "Yes, nearly well." "What has cured you?" "The vegetables, I believe." "Do you know where the vegetables come from?" "No." "You were in the Commissary room to-day and admired the stock of vegetables, pickles, cabbage, cans of fruit, bottles of wine and cordials, did you not?" "Yes, but why?" "No matter why;—I want you to look at the shirt and drawers you have on, then go through the hospital and see one hundred and twenty-two men with clean shirts, drawers, sheets and pillow-cases; then go into the linen room and I will show you enough more to change every man and every bed, and the whole of it came from the Sanitary Commission. All the pickled cabbage you, and the rest have eaten have come from them, and they are ready to furnish as much more if I need it, and yet you say, without knowing what you talk about, that the Sanitary Commission is a humbug? If it had not been for this Commission you and the rest of those in this hospital from the Army of the Potomac, who have been suffering from Scurvy would be as badly off as you were when you came in. You have abused an association which has put comfortable clothes upon you, has provided the vegetables you needed to cure you, and has done the same for thousands beside you." "Doctor, I never knew these things before! I have heard that all they did was for the benefit of the Surgeons about the hospitals; but, to tell the truth, I never inquired. There is an Aid Society in our place, and I have discouraged my sister from having anything to do with it—but no such shall come from me again."

He was cured of his folly, humbled and shamed—for it was at the dinner table that the conversation took place, and I was glad that others were present. This is not a solitary instance. I have had to contend with just such perverse ignorance for the past two years, but this was so striking, a case that I thought it might do good to furnish it for publication in the Reporter. The Commission has aided and blessed me in my work ever since November, 1861, and I say again as I have said before;—"that no instrumentality within my knowledge has done so much real good for the service as the United States Sanitary Commission."

BENJ WOODWARD,
Surgeon 22d Ill. Vol. in charge.
U. S. GENERAL HOSPITAL,
TULLAHOMA, TENN., Nov. 17, 1863.

HOW THEY WERE CAUGHT.—The following extract from a letter written by H. White, Chaplain of the 37th Iowa, to his wife, tells how a couple of "rebs" were nicely caught:

"Last night ten rebs were caught in a subterraneous hole, parallel to the surface of the ground, and nearly forty feet long. They were nearly out of the prison when detected. They began in the wood-house, and there piled the dirt away under the wood. They dug this passage with a painting-trowel and a butcher's knife. This morning before day two others, seeing two coffins (with corpses in) set out over night at the dead house, waiting for the undertaker to bear them away for burial, went and moved them inside the dead house and brought out two empty coffins and got into them, calculating, no doubt, when outside of the prison, and near or in the grave yard, to burst them and run. This they could easily have done, as the coffins are pine and slender, and the man who buries them (the rebs) feeble and old (not a graybeard) and unattended. But just as the old sexton was about to start with them one of our sergeants went to change a pair of socks on the feet of one of the corpses, discovered the trick and spoiled the fun. Then Col. Kincaid said, 'well, as they have chosen this way to get out, they shall have their choice of conveyance. So he ordered them into the coffins again and nailed them up tight and strong and started them to the grave-yard 'under guard.' And goodness gracious, me! how they did yell! They cried, yea, roared—howled, cutterwauled, screamed murder, and humped themselves up to break the coffins—but all to no purpose. After giving them a good scare the Colonel ordered them let out, and they now say they won't get in again till their time comes, and—being half Yankee—I guess they won't."

WHERE THE SOUTH GETS ITS BEST MEN.—The head gunner of the pirate Alabama is one of the most accomplished artillerists that was ever in the British Navy. He was paid off and got his discharge a few weeks before the Alabama sailed, and instead of enlisting in Her Majesty's Navy, took a commission on the pirate at the very round sum of two hundred pounds sterlings a month in gold, which at the present price of Confederate paper, is the moderate salary of forty-two thousand dollars a year.

SPEECH OF ANDREW JOHNSON.—The Eighth of January was commemorated at Nashville, and speeches were made by Governor Andrew Johnson and others. Among other bold things, the Governor said:

"The people made the Government, and it must remain under the control of the people. The Government being under the people, and the institutions under the Government, any antagonistic to the Government must necessarily give way for the preservation of the Government. Institutions must not rise above the Government. Institutions are tolerated for a time, they are not fixed; they are subject to change, or they die out. Not so the Constitutional Government, which is a fixed, a lasting institution of the people. We once had a United States Bank, and we had a Jackson, who hated aristocracy in any shape, whether in slaves or money. He crushed it. All institutions must be subordinate to the Government of the United States. Before the rebellion, we could discuss all institutions, all subjects, all measures, except Slavery. On that subject no one dared to speak, or write, or print, except on the side of the slave aristocracy. Now, thank God! the time has come when the press is unmuzzled—when the press can discuss this and all other subjects. The time has come when this institution is dead—when the chains are broken and the captive set free! (Applause.) The institution is dead (applause,) and slaves are not worth a quarter of a dollar a dozen. (Laughter.) Being dead, let us, in a becoming manner, prepare for the funeral obsequies."

Towards the close of his speech Governor Johnson gave his auditors some practical advice, as follows:

"I have owned slaves—slaves that I bought with my own money—money earned by myself, a quarter of a dollar at a time. They were confiscated and sold; yet two of them ran away from the rebel dominions and came here to me. I hired them—made a bargain with them for their labor—and thus recognized their freedom. And I and they do better than when they were slaves. Now, if any of you are slave owners, I advise you to go and do likewise, while you have the chance. Hire your negroes to work for you, and you will find that they will do better labor for you than when they were slaves. By this means you will do your part in this great transition to teach them self-reliance. The edict has gone forth and all that remains to be done is to change the relation of master and slave. The day is not far distant when this nation will be the great centre of civilization, of the arts and sciences, and of true religion. Time was when the tide of emigration ran westward; the time will be when it will run southward. Let us go on with our mighty work. To talk about breaking up a government like this for slavery! 'Tis madness. Let it go on with its great mission."

THE ARREST OF GEN. TOOMBS FOR TREASONABLE LANGUAGE.—Considerable excitement was occasioned in Richmond by the announcement of the arrest of Gen. Robert Toombs, at Savannah, on the charge of using treasonable and disloyal language. The Richmond papers endeavor to smoothe it over; but it seems there really was something in it. The Enquirer of the 4th gives the following report of it:

The case, as reported to us, is as follows: General Toombs had taken the cars in Savannah without a passport. The officer on the train, whose duty it was to examine passports, called, in the discharge of his duty, upon Mr. Toombs for his passport. Mr. Toombs had no passport, and so informed the officer, and said that he would not procure any, adding that he was General Robert Toombs, and owed allegiance to Georgia and no other Government, and that his State did not require her citizens to travel with passes and passports, and that he would not procure a passport. The officer informed Gen. Toombs that his orders allowed him no discretion, but required of him not to permit any man to pass without a passport. Gen. Toombs still refusing to procure a passport, was ejected from the cars by the guard. A crowd of citizens and soldiers having collected, Gen. Toombs proceeded to harrangue them in an excited and bitter manner, and in disloyal and treasonable language. Gen. Beauregard being in Savannah, and hearing the facts, ordered the arrest and confinement of Gen. Toombs, and he was taken in charge by a guard. An old lady, who was returning from visiting her soldier sons, witnessed the arrest. "Well, well well!" says the old lady, "they have got Bob Toombs. I heard him say he'd swallow the blood of all the Yankees that came South. Well, well, well! he can swallow all he sheds." The remarks of the old lady caused a burst of laughter, in the midst of which the train moved off. We sincerely hope there is no truth in this rumor as to Gen. Toomb's arrest. Gen. Beauregard is the friend of Gen. Toombs, and is not the officer to rashly excroise his authority; at the same time he is too much a soldier to permit any man to sap the foundation of authority by publicly expressing sentiments likely to excite mutiny and insubordination. If General Toombs has been arrested, we venture the prediction that there was ample cause to justify it.

LEGISLATION FOR OREGON.—The Committee on Public Lands has agreed to report to the Senate a bill granting lands to aid in the construction of a wagon road from Eugene City, Oregon, to the eastern boundary of the State, by the way of the middle fork of the Willamette river and Diamond Peak. The same Committee will also report another bill granting like aid to a road from Dalles City, on the Columbia, to the mouth of the Owyhee river. These grants will cover three sections of land to every mile of road.

In the House, the Committee on Ways and Means have introduced a bill appropriating $100,000 for fortifications at the mouth of the Columbia rivers, as has been heretofore noticed in this correspondence; and the House Committee on Indian Affairs has reported a bill appropriating $20,000 for the purpose of negotiating treaties with the Klamath Lake and other Indians in Southern and Southeastern Oregon. The bills for a Branch Mint at Portland and for a daily overland mail from Utah to Dalles City, will probably be reported on favorably by the Committee to whom they have been referred. The latter bill is especially important to the people of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, as, if successful, it will result in supplying those regions with mail facilities of a better character than usual, shortening postal communication with the Atlantic States some eight or ten days.—*Wash. DIPTHERIA—A SURE CURE FOR THIS TERRIBLE DISORDER.—Please publish the following treatment of diptheria. It has been used by myself, and others to whom I have given it, in over one thousand cases, without a failure. It will always cure, if the treatment is commenced before the diptheria membrane extends into the air tubes, which is known by the great difficulty of breathing and restlessness. In such cases no remedy yet discovered will always effect a cure; but if the patient is watched, and this treatment used in time, there is no danger.

I sent this treatment to a friend of mine in Wisconsin, and he used it on himself, and family and neighbors, with such wonderful success that he requested me to send it to you for publication, as this horrible disease is prevailing extensively in parts of Missouri:

INGREDIENTS WANTED.
Golden seal, pulverized,	1	drachm.
Borax,	1	"
Black pepper,	1	"
Alum,	1	"
Nitrate potash,	1	"
Salts,	2	"

Put all into a common-sized teacup or vessel which holds about four ounces, and pour half full of boiling water, stir well, and then fill full of good vinegar. Fit for use when it settles. Make a swab by getting a little stick about the size of a pipe-stem, notch one end, and wrap a string of cotton cloth around it, letting the cloth project about half an inch beyond the end of the stick, so as not to jag the mouth and throat, and fasten with a thread.

Swab the mouth and throat well every half hour if the case is bad, every hour if not bad. When the patient gets better, every two hours; and when still better, two or three times a day, till well; which will be from two to seven days. Touch every effected spot, the uvula, tonsils, and fauces, the whole of the back part of the mouth and top of the throat; and let the patient swallow a little of the wash every time you swab. Swabbing causes no pain, though the patient will gag, and sometimes vomit; but swab well, and a feeling of relief will follow every swabbing.

Let every patient have a separate swab and wash, as the disease is undoubtedly infectious. Keep the wash pure by pouring what you can use, each time, into another vessel and also wipe off any matter or slime that may be on the swab, every time you take it from the mouth.

Rub the following liniment on the throat outside, once every three or four hours, and keep a flannel cloth round the neck till well:

Take spirits turpentine, one ounce.
" sweet oil, (or linseed oil,) one ounce.
" aqua ammonia, (mix) one ounce,

Shake before using each time.

Keep the bowels regular with castor oil.

Keep the patient in the house, but ventilate well. The diptheria wash and liniment will be found sufficient for all cases, if taken in time; and should you mistake any other sore throat for diptheria, you will affect a cure most invariably, as I use this for all common sore throats. I have never lost a case, and many have told me that no money would induce them, in these "diptheria times," to be without the wash and liniment; and when a soreness in the throat is felt, it is used, and a cure is always effected. THE MARIA.—An item concerning this published yesterday, stated that she had forfeited. This was a mistake. A libel filed against her, and her owners resist claim of the revenue officers, who caused to be seized. The case has not yet been because the prosecution have been u[nable] hitherto, to obtain the proofs, upon wh[ich] forfeiture is claimed. The statement yesterday was based upon information w[hich] was incorrect. The position of the st[eamer] steamer remained unchanged last night. water is about twenty feet deep, where sh[e] but lying principally on one side, and b[eing] strongly "made fast" with ropes, she ca[n] well sink any farther. The various spec[u]tions as to what would be done with her, about settled, as she will most likely be for what she will bring, to-morrow. An advertisement to that effect appears this morn[ing].

THE SABBATH SCHOOL FESTIVAL.—The festival given last evening by the scholars of the Methodist Episcopal Sabbath School, at t[he] Church, was well attended, and passed of[f] in a manner highly satisfactory. The little c[hil]dren attracted considerable attention for th[eir] pleasant recitations. The singing was good, the popular patriotic air: "Rally 'round the flag boys, rally once again," was executed in fine style, by a class of some eight or nine, the whole school joining in the chorus. The receipts amounted to $[illegible] 10, which will be appropriated to the purchase of books for the library.

A "DEAD HEAD."—Somebody's cow had a free ride to the Cascades, and back, on the steamer Julia, yesterday. Upon arriving at the Cascades, and counting the stock over, it was found that there was one head too many, and investigation proved that a very fine brindle was among the lot not represented by an owner. She was taken back to this city, and will be put [illegible] Peopl[e] should be on the look [illegible] their cows, or it may not be surprising to learn of their going in the direction of the mines, and it is not certain that they may always be so lucky as to get back.

ABERNETHY'S WHARF.—The first vessel to this new wharf [illegible] Morrison and Taylor streets, was the Oasis Arrantee, which is now discharging there. It looks cheerful [illegible] and the more remembered that the large wharf [illegible] it all the time. The new wharf of Mr. Abernethy is a very fine one, neatly and conveniently arranged and when fully completed will be a great credit to the part of the city.

A LONG WAY.—A boat passed rapidly up [illegible] on Wednesday evening, and persons at [illegible] were astonished about in a surprising manner as the vessel bounded [illegible] It is hinted that the boat was [illegible] who having things at the wharves [illegible] paying [illegible] stakes to mark the course of freight it carries, up Morrison street [illegible] the captain near Third street.

ANOTHER NEW MINING COMPANY.—Articles of Incorporation were filed yesterday, for the organization of the Silver Mining Co." The incorporators [illegible] A. Ellsworth, D. F. Bratton, L. B. Thompson and Ed. A. Temple; Capital Stock $[illegible], in shares of $100 each. This Company takes its name from a lode near Idaho City, discovered by Mr. Gambrenus, of Buena Vista Bar, Boise County, Idaho.

DOINGS OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.—At the meeting of the Council on Wednesday evening a petition was presented, and referred, to have the grade of Salmon street established. The City Attorney reported that A. C. Gibbs laid no claims to block 172, that he was building on block 211, and not the Market Square block. A resolution to again "notify A. C. Gibbs" was lost. A resolution to refund the special tax was adopted.

PAPERS, NEWS, ETC.—Mr. Barrett at his well-filled periodical store, has received by mail all the late newspapers, magazines, pictorials, etc. Those who wish to know what is going on in the world can find it all out at Barrett's store.

NEW STEAMER.—A new steamer, owned in Brooklyn, yet without a name, was making herself useful yesterday, bringing apples to market. She is about the size of the Leviathan but does not draw as much water.

WHEAT.—The Senator brought 45 tons of wheat to Milwaukie yesterday, and 12 tons of other freight to Portland. Her passengers were 20 up, and 15 down.

THE MARIA.—An item concerning this boat published yesterday, stated that she had been forfeited. This was a mistake. A libel was filed against her, and her owners resist the claim of the revenue officers, who caused her to be seized. The case has not yet been tried because the prosecution have been unable thereto, to obtain the proofs, upon which a forfeiture is claimed. The settlement made yesterday was based upon information which was incorrect. The position of the sunken steamer remained unchanged last night. The water is about twenty feet deep, where she is, but lying principally on one side, and being strongly "made fast" with ropes, she cannot well sink any further. The various speculations as to what would be done with her, are about settled, as she will most likely be sold for what she will bring, to-morrow. An agreement to that effect appears this morning.

THE SABBATH SCHOOL FESTIVAL.—The festival given last evening by the scholars of the Methodist Episcopal Sabbath School, at their church, was well attended, and passed off in a highly satisfactory. The little ones received considerable attention for their recitations. The singing was good; the patriotic air: "Rally 'round the flag boys, rally once again," was executed in fine style, by a class of some eight or nine, the entire school joining in the chorus. The proceeds amounted to $74 10, which will be applied to the purchase of books for the library.

"BIG HEAD."—Somebody's cow had a big ride to the Cascades, and back, on the Julia, yesterday. Upon arriving at the Cascades, and counting the stock over, it was found that there was one head too many, and a big one proved that a very fine heifer was among the lot, not represented by any one. She was brought back to this city and will be put ashore this morning. People should be on the look out for their cows, or it may not be surprising if they learn of their going in the direction of the mines, and it is to be hoped that they may always be so lucky as to get back.

BIRD'S WHARF.—The first vessel to the new wharf, between Morrison and Taylor, was the bark Almatia, which is now discharging her cargo there. It looks queer to see a vessel "up town," and it looks queer when it is remembered that the wharf at the foot of B street is all the business with. The new wharf is a very fine one, neatly and substantially arranged, and when fully completed will be a great credit to that part of the city.

A DRAY.—A dray passed rapidly up Front street, soon after dark last evening, and the contents were knocked about in a promiscuous manner, as the vehicle bounded along in its course. It so turned out that the driver was minus a driver, and having things all his own way came near jarring the pavements. Leaving dray pins and stakes in the course of flight, it turned up Ankeny street, and was captured near Third street.

NEW MINING COMPANY.—Articles of association were filed yesterday, for the "Boise Gold and Silver Mining Co." The incorporators are: J. C. Ainsworth, D. C. Ainsworth, R. R. Thompson and Ed. A. Theller. Capital Stock, $380,000, in shares of $500 each. This company takes its name from a mine near Idaho City, discovered by Jas. W. Marden, of Buena Vista Bar, Boise County, &c.

MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.—At the meeting of the Council on Wednesday evening, a petition was presented, and referred, to have a ferry on Salmon street established. The City Surveyor reported that A. C. Gibbs had encroached on block 172, that he was building on block 211, and not the Market Square that a resolution to again notify A. C. Gibbs was lost. A resolution to refund the money was adopted.

NEWS, ETC.—Mr. Barrett, at his old stand, periodical store, has received by the late newspapers, magazines, pictures, etc. Those who wish to know what is going on in the world can find it all out at Barrett's store.

NEW STEAMER.—A new steamer, owned in Portland, yet without a name, was making herself useful yesterday, bringing apples to market. She is about the size of the Leviathan but does not draw as much water.

WHEAT.—The Senator brought 45 tons of wheat to Milwaukie yesterday, and 12 tons of other freight to Portland. Her passengers were 20 up, and 15 down.

THE HUNT.—The Hunt carried 120 tons of freight, and 100 passengers to the Cascades yesterday. The Express took all the freight she could carry, and yet the Company's dock is full.

SQUADRON OF MULES.—The barge Carrie Lind was left at Vancouver yesterday, to be loaded with Government mules. The steamer Julia will take them in tow this morning, on her passage to the Cascades.

CITY TAXES.—Those of our citizens who have paid their special tax, will have it refunded to them, so soon as warrants can be prepared. Due notice will be given of the time, by publication.

OAK GROVE THEATRE.—Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, Miss Frances R. Gass, Mr. G. B. Waldron, and Company, opened a short season at the Vancouver Theatre, on Wednesday evening, to a large and fashionable audience.

ARRIVAL OF THE ALMATIA.—The bark Almatia, Captain Richardson, sailed from San Francisco on the 5th inst., for Portland. The entire voyage was attended with head winds, she was six days off the Columbia Bar, and three days in charge of the pilot. She arrived in tow of the steamer John H. Couch at two o'clock yesterday morning. The following are her consignees:

Hodge & Calef, 15; packages; Weil Brothers, 30; Burgren & Blindler, 55; Smith & Davis, 260; F J Nettleton & Co, 462; D S Baker & Co, 12; diamond XXX, 83; Emil, Loewenstein & Co, 122; Mitwain & Morse, 425; Banned Bros, 168; Badger & Son, 25; D & L, Albany, 221; Waterman & Co, 52; Haas Bros, 377; Selter & Falb, 229; J Levy Bros, 138; Seliger, Frankman & Co, 447; Elfelt, Well & Co, 30; Harker Bros, 271; French & Gilman, 249; S D & Co; 22; A Cahn & Co, 585; J C Cutter, Albany, 64; Richards & McCraken, 687; T A Foster & Co, 541; W Weinshenck, 30; Knapp, Burrell & Co, 214; Allen & Lewis, 274, Levy & Bloch, 38; Jacob Cahn, 17; C S N Co, 13; Cohen, Lyon & Co, 150; Haas Bros, 59; J Levy, G M Hoxter, 213; diamond R, 5; H S, 24; S Sherlock, 4; H & C 166; Wiberg & Strowbridge, W & J L Barlow, Oregon City, 67; Robt Lahmap, 133; D S, 83; M B & B, 199; B M & Co, 219; Walter Brobury, 91; Diamond S 138; A J B & Co, 13; H W Corbett, 6; Hume & Wise, 102; D & W, 4; L P W Quimby, 5; N W 25, R S & Co, 17; G & B, 1.

WILLAMETTE THEATRE.—The attendance at Willamette Theatre last night was not as good as on former occasions. This cannot be from any lack on the part of the performers to do justice to the characters they personate, nor the plays brought out by the Manager. With Mrs. Leighton, J. H. Taylor, A. R. Phelps, and such persons to do the acting, we should sustain the Theatre with good audiences. A benefit has been tendered to the Manager for to-morrow evening. The bill for to-night is well worth seeing.

U. S. WAGONS.—Ten government wagons lately brought from California on the Merrit, will be taken to Vancouver this morning, on the Couch.

This is to certify that I have used DETTER'S HAIR RESTORATIVE, and I take great pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe and effectual preparation for the restoration of the Hair. I was nearly bald when I commenced the use of it, and after using two bottles, I had it thus produced a fine, healthy growth of hair, and that, too, in less than two months. SAINSEVAIN'S

WINE BITTERS!

IT IS PURE, MELLOW, DELIC

Song of the Soldiers.

BY PRIVATE MICHAEL O'REILLY.

Comrades known to marches many,
Comrades tried in dangers many,
Brothers, ever fast as fate,
Wounds or sickness may divide us,
Marching orders may divide us,
But, whatever fate betide us,
Brothers of the heart are we.

Comrades known by faith the clearest,
Tried, when death was near and nearest,
Bound we are by the dearest,
Brothers evermore to be—
And, if spared and growing older,
Shoulder still to line with shoulder
And with hearts no thrill the colder,
Brothers ever we shall be.

By commission of the banner—
Battle-scarred but victor-banner,
By the emblem of the banner,
Brothers of one church are we
Creed nor faction can divide us,
Race nor language can divide us,
Still, whatever fate betide us,
Children of the flag are we!

A Day at the Commissary in Chattanooga.

A correspondent writing from Chattanooga, Tenn., gives the following account of what he saw at the Commissary:

I visited the port of Bridgeport a day or two since, and remained several hours with Col. McDougal, of the 123d New York, who is in command. Witnessing a crowd of females around the commissary, I inquired the cause. "They are applicants for relief," replied Col. McDougal.

I approached the wretched creatures, and though familiar with the misery and destitution of cities, I must confess I never before witnessed a parallel to the scene which presented itself. I counted forty-seven females, of whom three possessed money to make purchases; the remainder were all pensioners upon the bounty of the Government—all seekers for alms at the hands of the detested Yankees, who had been represented as the embodiment of all that was parsimonious. Of course the whole throng must first apply to the Provost Marshal, and when the proper hour had arrived they were ushered into his tent one by one, to relate their sufferings and the causes which had reduced them to their present condition. They were all new applicants, the old ones, getting supplied at regular intervals without the intervention of the Provost Marshal.

The first whose fortune it was to be called was a Mrs. Ricard.

Provost Marshal.—Are you a widow?

Mrs. Ricard.—No, sir.

P. M.—Where is your husband?

Mrs. R.—With Bragg, in the 3d Tennessee cavalry.

P. M.—Your husband is in the rebel army. When did he join it?

Mrs. R.—Two years since.

P. M.—Did he volunteer?

Mrs. R.—Yes, to keep from being conscripted.

P. M.—The rebel conscription law was not then in force.

Mrs. R.—But they told him it would soon be, and he had better volunteer.

P. M.—Was he not a strong secessionist from the start?

Mrs. R.—Yes; he thought you wanted to deprive us of our rights, and all our slaves.

P. M.—How many slaves do you own.

Mrs. R.—None.

P. M.—Had he a plantation?

Mrs. R.—No, sir.

P. M.—What property had he?

Mrs. R.—Nothing; he lived by days' work.

P. M.—Why, then, was he so fearful about the slaves?

Mrs. R.—Because he was afraid the North would put the niggers on an equality with us.

P. M.—Your husband is in the rebel army, and you ask us to supply you with bread. What do you think of this?

Mrs. Ricard threw aside the fly of the tent, and just outside stood five small children, who had but a single article of clothing—a light homespun cotton wrapper—on each, though the wind was blowing chilly cold from the north. "They have not had a mouthful since yesterday morning," said Mrs. R. "and not half enough for six months."

The appeal was irresistible; the Provost Marshal then told her he would administer the oath, and get her relief. On being asked to subscribe her name, she replied that she could not write, and accordingly a resort was had to the mark.

I continued with the officer till the whole number was disposed of and noted the following statistics relative to the forty-four who were applicants for alms:

Number who could not write	35
Number who wrote very badly	6
Number who wrote well	3
Widows before the war	9
Widows by the war	14
Women with husbands in the rebel army	20
Women with husbands in our army	1

The conversation related as occurring between the provost marshal and Mrs. Ricard may be taken as a fair sample of that with nearly all, and it is unnecessary to repeat further; but it will be interesting to add a single exception to the general rule. It was of a lady evidently well educated, as her chirography would have done credit to any one, and her language was entirely free from the peculiarity of dialect which marked the other applicants, but which I will not attempt to follow, as it is familiar to all your readers. By request I have suppressed the applicant's name.

P. M.—You are an applicant for relief?

Lady.—Yes, sir.

P. M. Where is your husband?

Lady.—He is dead, sir.

P. M.—When did he die?

Lady.—In 1856.

P. M.—Have you a plantation?

Lady.—Yes, sir; four hundred acres.

P. M.—Where are your slaves?

Lady.—We had but four; one of them is a decrepit old woman, and is now with me. The remainder were carried off by Bragg's army to keep them from falling into the hands of the Union troops.

P. M.—Were they carried away by your consent?

Lady.—They were not.

P. M.—Have you any objection to taking the oath of allegiance?

Lady.—I have not; I have always consistently opposed secession. I did so in the presence of Bragg's army, and even more loudly than I oppose it now.

OCULAR DEMONSTRATION.—Upon one occasion, when the Rev. Mr. Robinson, a dissenting minister at Cambridge, was preaching, he dropped the immediate discourse, and made this observation: "It is a rule with me never to use an expression which the humblest of my hearers cannot understand—I have just made use of the term ocular demonstration—I will explain it to you—I look into the tables, and I see a young man fast asleep!" On pronouncing the last two words he raised his voice considerably, and all eyes being attracted to the unfortunate sleeper, he added, in a lower tone: "Of that I have ocular demonstration." He then resumed his discourse in his accustomed manner.

The Great Barrington Courier, referring to Tupper's line—"A babe in the house is a well spring of pleasure," says: "If it is, we prefer to get water from the pump."

To be sure the race is not always to the swift, nor the battle to the strong; but it is ninety-nine times out of a hundred.

AN ECCENTRIC INFIDEL.—A correspondent of the Northwestern Advocate says the following quaint anecdote was related to him by an itinerant of the Ohio Annual Conference:

"I was sent," said he, "to Gallipolis Circuit, and having fulfilled the labors of the Sabbath on an Autumnal evening, was invited by an infidel to go home with him. I accepted most cheerfully, and was treated with affable courtesy and the respect due to a minister of the Gospel of Christ. In the morning, as I took my leave, my infidel friend courteously invited me to call on him whenever it should suit my convenience. This I generally did, as I came to the appointment throughout the the year. As the year neared its close, I thought I would call and offer payment to my host, lest he should charge me, and through me ministers generally, with neglect in paying just duce. I called for my bill. He brought forth his book, where was charged in mercantile style, for board, horsekeeping, etc., sums amounting to fifteen or twenty dollars. I was amazed; I told him I could not pay it now, but when I came again, before I left the circuit, I would cancel the debt. 'But stop,' says my friend, 'we have not done yet. Let me see what is on the other side.' He then produced an amazing credit of one dollar for every sermon I had preached in that place during year, whether he was present or absent; a sixpence for every blessing asked at his table, and a shilling for every prayer I offered in the family, save one, when I knelt on one foot and knee—its credit was a sixpence. The aggregate of credit surpassed the debt some three or four dollars, which he immediately produced, passed over to me, and we parted in mutual friendship and love."

It is stated to be satisfactorily demonstrated that every time that a wife scolds her husband, she adds a wrinkle to her face. It is thought the announcement of this fact will have a most salutary effect, especially as it is understood that every time a wife smiles on her husband, it will remove one of the old wrinkles!

Brigham Young, in a recent sermon, told the Mormons that it was "more important to raise saints than to raise crops." No doubt he thinks it the more agreeable husbandry of the two.

THIS

NO ALCOHOL OR BAD WHISKY!

They will cure the above complaints, or any other disease, in nine cases out of ten.

INDUCED by the extraordinary popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, many worthless preparations have been put forth by ignorant Quacks and Druggists, with variously devised names, so closely resembling mine as to deceive the unwary purchaser. Examine every article you buy, and see that you get Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, and not an imitation or counterfeit. Many of the latter are offered to the public, purporting to be vegetable, but are put up in the shape of pills, with injurious drugs and poisons, which give temporary relief, and then leave the patient worse than before. Take only Hoofland's German Bitters, or Hoofland's German Bitters and Brandy, or Hoofland's German Bitters and Whiskey. Do not be persuaded to buy anything else that may be recommended as a substitute, but if you do not find the article you want, send to us and we will forward it to you by express, or in any way you may direct. Be sure and call for Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, and see that his name is blown in the bottle. Do not be imposed upon by dealers who tell you that they have no Bitters but some of their own make, or some other kind, just as good as Hoofland's German Bitters. Remember that Hoofland's German Bitters is the only article of the kind that has ever received the recommendation of any considerable portion of the medical faculty, and that it has attained its unparalleled reputation entirely on its own merits. Do not be deceived by certificates published in favor of other articles purporting to be made by persons who have been cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. The proprietors have thousands of certificates from the most eminent
